copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

Thirteen men were arrested in Burlington Saturday and Sunday for various offences. Some one ought to hasten to break the hoodoo by being arrested.

When the improvements at Fort Ethan Allen will have been completed the post will represent an expenditure of $1,300,-000. Some of the Antis would call this militarism run rampant.

A good clean game of base ball, free from puerile scrappiness and muckerism -in fact just such a game as was played on the local school campus yesterday afternoon-makes the national game still a popular one.

According to William J. Bryan, an other man gone wrong. Dr. E. Benjamin Andrews of the University of Nebraska, forsakes the silver standard for that of gold. And now W. J. B. is singing "You don't belong to the regulars."

The fact that the Venezuelan commission which Frank Plumley has just accepted was offered to, and was rejected by, two other Vermonters does not diminish the lustre of the salary connected with the work. The Northfield man will receive $5,000 on top of his expenses, while the job will not take more than a few months, perhaps three at the most. With the additional compensation that it will place the commissioner in the publicaye, such a very long time.

The death penalty for murder and a definite period of imprisonment for lesser erimes, these sentences to be unalterable, are what the situation in Vermont demands. In order to make capital punishment unchangeable it would be better if sociation of Montreal. To wren the dead; hasten, give the living

To wrap the dead; basten, give the living bread!

From afar one hardly feels the distant tears, the distant cries, the distant Misery-strangers' woe, strangers' blood, Oh, brethren, no!

A thousand hearts, a single pain, a thousand hearts, a single door; we and homes, a single door; we are all one martyred orphan, one sickly orphan we are all!

Brethren, sisters! Mercy! Mercy! Grave and awful is the woe. Hasten shrouds

To wrap the dead; hasten, give the living

Honor For Dr. Koch.

The French Academy of Sciences has just chosen Dr. Koch to replace the late Professor Virchow as foreign member. Twenty-eight votes were given for Dr. Koch, against eighteen for Mr. Agussiz, curator at Harvard university; eleven for S. P. Langley of Washington, and one for Professor Van der Vals of Amsterdam. The choice is looked upon as a distinct triumph for the German savant, after the violent campaign carried on against putes Immaculate Conception. Dr. T. Allen Hoben of Waupun, Wis., is the author of a book which will create a sensation in church circles, says a Milwankee special to the Chicago Record-Herald. The birth of the book is "The Virgin Birth." In it he disputes the doctrine of the immaculate conception. Dr. Hoben claims that Jesus of Nazareth came into the world in 4 manner no different than "any other man born of woman."

The report that the book is to bt used as a textbook by the University of Chicago will give it more prominence. Dr. Hoben claims that the doctrine of the virgin birth is not found in any writings prior to Ignatius in the second decade of the second century.

Dr. Hoben is the paster of the Union church at Waupun. He held the fellowship of the New Testament in the University of Chicago from 1808 to 1901, when he was called to his present parish. His church is unique from the fact that it is formed by the union of three independent churches.

Shrewsbury's Celebration.

The ancient English town of Shrewsbury will devote a week in July to a celebration of the five hundredth anniversary of its great battle, which occurred on July 21, 1403, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. The celebration will begin on Sunday, the 19th. with appropriate services in the old abbey church. The next few days there will be performances of "Richard II.," "Henry IV.," "Henry V." and "The Merry Wives of Windsor" by Benson's Shakespearean company. The central figure of the whole celebration will be the fat kulght who was never in Shrewsbury, if indeed he ever existed. against, says the New York Times. The first is a menace to life, while the latter has a capacity for making its victim extremely uncomfortable. According to the city health department officials,

"To avoid dust pneumonia," said Dr. W. K. Jaques, director of the chemical laboratory, "stay out of dust as much as possible. Prevent dust from entering the room. A cheesecloth screen stretched over the window will keep out the dust." Rose fever attacks those who visit localities where great numbers of roses are la bloom. Pollen from the flowers enters the eyes and nose and produces painful irritation.

"There are other causes of this discase," Dr. Jaques explained. "There are not enough roses in Chicago to affect the masses, but the pollen from fruit trees has a similar capacity to irritate.
